WHAT EVERY BRIDE SHOULD KNOW BEFORE BOOKING HER WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHER

Q:WHAT DO I WANT FROM MY PHOTOGRAPHER?

How do I want to experience this day? The photographer is the person I am going to see the most throughout the day. Who should this person be?

A: I want someone I get along with.

TIP: Take the time to meet your photographer. Make sure you are talking with the person who is actually going to photograph your wedding. Are you comfortable with that person? Do you like their personality? This is important for both you and them. You might want to consider having your engagement photo session done with the same photographer. It's a good rehearsal.

A: I want someone who listens to me

TIP: At the first meeting, pitch some ideas and see the photographer's response. Is he or she dismissing your ideas because "they don't do that?" You be the judge. Are they willing to accommodate you? Are they asking about YOUR day?

A: I want someone who is as excited about my wedding day as I am (well almost as excited)

It means you want someone who thinks your day is special and that it should be a fun day.

TIP: Does this photographer enjoy photographing weddings? You can tell by how they talk about the images they want to capture and create on your wedding day. You can also tell by looking at their work.

A: I want someone who knows what they are doing.

During the interview, Do they say "I usually..?" This may mean they do a lot of weddings. If they explain why it is preferable to do certain things over others, or how time frames tend to work best, then you know experience is talking. Look at images of other weddings shot by that photographer.

Q: WHAT DO I WANT AFTER THE WEDDING DAY?
WHAT WILL I BE LEFT WITH AFTER THE WEDDING?

I've spent a lot of time planning details. The gown, shoes, jewelry, hair and makeup. The cake, the flowers, the bride's maids... After the wedding I want to be able to re-visit all this.

A: I want lots of memories

After the wedding day, and a few weeks, months, years after, I want to be able to re-live that day. I want to see all the details and remember the emotions of the moments.

TIP: Does looking at this photographer's images make you feel like you were there? Have you seen a DVD slide show done by Your Eye on Photo? When you do, you will understand

A: I want a lot of goodies:

By all means, shop around. But bear in mind the amount of items you get at Your Eye on Photo. The DVD alone is an amazing value in itself. But you also get your printed proofs, Your digital negatives, on line viewing and on and on.... Please refer to the "more than just a price list" to take in the full spectrum of the items you will receive.

Q: WHAT DO I WANT FROM MY IMAGES?

A: Fun, and unique images. Images that look like us:

I don't want static images that have no life to them.

I don't want the same images my girlfriend has.

What I want are dynamic images that really show who I am, who we are, and how the day went. I want to see details and big picture; I want to see all the people who came to our wedding. I want to remember the touching and funny moments.

TIP: Again look at images from previous weddings, look at the style. Do you like it? Look at the variety, from one wedding to the other are the images the same? Do the images have impact?

Q: WILL I BE HAPPY WITH THE END RESULT?

I want to know that I will have a lot of value for my money.
I want to be left with tangible items to cherish for a long long time.
I want a lot of items but I also want great quality.

A: Here at Your Eye on Photo, I think you will be very happy if you Book me as your wedding photographer. I see weddings as a fun place to be. I find it's a privilege to be the one to record the moments that are so significant in your life.

Weddings boost my creativity because of the nature of this day. Everyone is happy and the energy is ever flowing all day long.
